

A1 Common European Framework

A1 Basic User Pre-elementary

You will learn basic English, including numbers, the alphabet and essential vocabulary.

You will be able to:

- find specific information on leaflets and timetables
- understand and make simple sentences
- introduce yourself and speak about yourself, your family and where you are from
- speak about your daily routine, your plans for the future and things that you did in the past.

At the end of the course you will be able to ask for information, go shopping, go to a restaurant and write simple emails.

A2 (KET) Common European Framework

A2 Basic User Elementary

After finishing the elementary course you will be able to:

- talk about where you live, and compare it to other places
- describe your daily life, occupation or studies, and talk about your interests and hobbies
- give opinions and speculate about the world around you
- understand and give instructions to describe how something is done.

At the end of this course you will have everything under control when you plan your next trip to London or New York, or when an English-speaking friend comes to visit you.

A2+ -> B1 (PET) Common European Framework - IELTS 4.5-5.0

B1 Independent User Intermediate

This course enables you to do the following

- have sufficient knowledge of the language to describe common situations, and be able to present the main points of an idea and describe events in a simple manner
- be able to understand general texts which express ideas in a straightforward way and write personal letters which describe events, desires and feelings
- have the ability to formulate long pieces of continuous writing with details and factual information, or a description of simple events
- be able to understand longer stretches of speech and more complex messages in a familiar context.

You are not fluent, but on your way!

B1+ -> B2 (FCE) Common European Framework - IELTS 5.5-6.5

Independent User Upper Intermediate

After the Upper Intermediate course, you will:

- have a sufficient knowledge of the language to describe people, places and processes, and express opinions and develop arguments using both basic structures and some complex forms
- have a wide range of vocabulary for general topics and your job
- be able to contribute to group discussions and maintain a conversation with native speakers understand reports and articles about contemporary issues
- be able to present an argument or information in writing following standard layout conventions
- understand longer stretches of speech and the main points of discussions that are clearly expressed.

You are not fluent yet , but you are close!

B2+ -> C1 (CAE) Common European Framework - IELTS 6.5-7.5

C1 Proficient User Advanced

You are now starting to think and dream in English. Upon successfully finishing the Advanced course, you will have:

- a wide range of language to select from in order to express yourself
- a good command of idiomatic expressions and colloquialisms
- the ability to use the language effectively for social purposes and adjust the register accordingly
- the ability to express yourself orally in a clear, fluent and well-structured manner
- an understanding of long and complex factual and literary texts
- the ability to note differences in style
- no problems writing about complex subjects in a clearly organised, coherent way, and understanding the majority of spoken language in virtually all contexts.

You are now extremely confident when speaking and writing. You don't really think about how to say things, you just say them.

C1+ -> C2 (CPE) Common European Framework - IELTS 7.5-8.5 c2

Proficient User Proficiency

At this level you are approaching mastery of the language in terms of the degree of precision, appropriateness and ease with the language typical of highly successful learners. After completing the Proficiency course you will be able to:

- thoroughly understand virtually everything you read or hear, including abstract, complex texts such as manuals, specialised articles and literary works
- summarise information from a variety of sources, and reconstruct arguments and accounts coherently and with ease
- express yourself spontaneously with great speed and precision, differentiating finer shades of proficient meaning, even in complex situations
- backtrack and restructure around difficulties so smoothly that other people are hardly aware of it
- manage discussions smoothly and with ease, in a style that is appropriate to the context and with an effective and logical structure
- interact with ease and skill, picking up and using non-verbal and intonational cues apparently effortlessly, and to contribute to joint discourse with fully natural turn taking, referencing and allusion making.

You have now attained a level of English whereby you speak and write effortlessly and with a high degree of control when expressing the finer shades of meaning and a considerable familiarity with idiomatic expressions and colloquialisms.

